

BILL REACHES
SENATE FLOOR

Finance Committee Reports Canadian Treaty Measure.

INCLUDES ROOT AMENDMENT

Minority Reports Filed by Senator McCumber, Who Opposes Ratification; by Williams, Stone and Kern, in Favor of Passing Bill as It Stands, and by La Follette, Expressing Views Adverse to the Measure.

Washington, June 14.—The Canadian reciprocity agreement bill finally reached the floor of the senate, a majority of the finance committee reporting it with the Root amendment attached, but without recommendation. Minority reports were filed also by Senator McCumber, who opposed the ratification of the bill, by Senators Williams, Stone and Kern, who were in favor of passing the bill as it stands, and by Senator La Follette, who submitted an individual report, in which he expressed views adverse to the measure.

Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi declares that when he wants a thing he wants it, but he will not refuse to kill a rattlesnake because at the same time he cannot kill an anaconda. This, in brief, is his reason for accepting the Canadian reciprocity treaty as set forth in a report on the reciprocity bill filed when Senator Penrose, chairman of the committee on finance, reported that measure.

"When I want two things, I want both, but if I can't get both, then I want the one I can get," Mr. Williams said.

"Not only is it true that I would, as original propositions, favor most of the amendments offered, but I could easily write down several hundred others that I would like to put upon the statute books, reducing the burden of tariff taxation upon the people. But I see no particular sense in refusing to shoot a rattlesnake because I cannot at the same time shoot an anaconda. This is especially true if the anaconda is not within effective gun range."

Majority Report Noncommittal.

Mr. Williams' report was one of a number presenting various views on the reciprocity bill. The majority report was noncommittal—neither for nor against. Senators Williams, Stone and Kern united in urging the acceptance of the bill without amendment, while Senators La Follette and McCumber presented reports in opposition to the measure.

Mr. Williams, in writing the report, gave especial prominence to the portion of President Taft's Chicago speech dealing with wood pulp as expressive of his views.

Mr. Williams declared himself to be favorable to a majority of the amendments that were offered in committee, if offered as original propositions standing upon their own merits, but not in favor of them as amendments to this bill because he thinks "that their effect in all cases and their purpose in most cases is to defeat Canadian reciprocity, either by means of causing an adverse vote upon the proposition as thus amended in the senate, or by forcing a protectionist president to veto the bill as passed."

While Mr. Williams favors the house "farmers' free list bill" he is not in favor of it as an amendment to this bill, because he thinks the result of putting it on would be to defeat the bill.

Senator Stone of Missouri signed the Williams' report. Senator Kern also signed the Williams' report.

Taking the position that the Canadian reciprocity bill should be reported to the senate with an adverse recommendation Senator McCumber of North Dakota filed a minority report giving sixteen reasons why he opposed the bill. All were based on the contention that by opening the markets of the United States to Canadian farm products the proposed bill would have the effect of lowering the prices of American products.

Senator La Follette in an individual report said it was perfectly consistent for one who believed in free trade to support the bill, but that no man who believed in a tariff for revenue could consistently give it his support.

SOUTH DAKOTA VALUATION

Increase in Realty Assessment This Year Will Be $7,000,000.

Pierre, S. D., June 14.—The real estate assessment of this state will be increased approximately $7,000,000 this year more than the figures of last year, through lands assessed for the first time by the title passing either by final proof on government lands, the sale of Indian heirship lands or sales of state lands. The greatest increase will be shown in the counties of Stanley, Perkins and Tripp.

Ryan Near Breakdown.

New York June 14.—Thomas F. Ryan, feeble and broken in health, sailed for Europe on the steamer Adriatic in the hope that a three months' rest and absence from countless business interests will effect the cure that he has been unable to find at home. Despite his attempt to be cheery it was evident that he is in bad health.

NO APOLOGIES TO MAKE TO ANYONE

Frank B. Kellogg Appears Before House Committee.

HAS NOTHING TO CONCEAL

"Trust Buster" Declares He Has Appeared for Corporations and Against Them—Asserts Willingness to Answer Any and All Questions That May Be Asked—Denies He Used Influence to Prevent Prosecution of the Steel Trust.

Washington, June 14.—"I have no apologies to make to any one for the manner in which I have practiced the law. I have appeared for corporations and against them. There has been a good deal said about my connection with the steel corporation and the government. I am here to explain it fully and to answer any and all questions that may be asked."

This statement was made by Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul to the Stanley special house committee, which is conducting an inquiry into the affairs of the United States Steel corporation. Mr. Kellogg's appearance was not scheduled by the committee. It was provoked by the publication of a report that Mr. Kellogg was the "mysterious" influence that had prevented a prosecution of the steel corporation by the Roosevelt administration.

It was further set forth in this report that Mr. Kellogg was attempting to evade the committee, that he had practically ignored an informal summons issued against him and that "powerful men" were at work in an effort to prevent the committee from forcing the St. Paul man to testify in the steel hearing.

When the published report in question was directed to Mr. Kellogg's attention he denounced it as a falsehood.

Did Not Try to Be Excused.

"I have not attempted, nor has any one attempted in my behalf, to induce the committee to excuse me from testifying in this proceeding," he said. "In response to the request of Chairman Stanley I submitted to him certain information that he requested relative to the operation of the Duluth and Iron Range railroad and the Duluth, Missabe and Northern."

The publication which aroused the committee was circulated at the Capitol. As soon as he was apprised of it Mr. Kellogg sought members of the committee and asked that he be heard. Accordingly arrangements were made for his appearance and he testified for an hour or more.

It was during the course of Mr. Kellogg's testimony that Chairman Stanley made what amounted to an announcement that it is the purpose of the committee to ask Colonel Roosevelt and J. Pierpont Morgan to appear and tell of their knowledge of the affairs of the United States Steel corporation. It will be remembered that United States Steel acquired the stock of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company in 1907 and, according to Judge E. H. Gary, President Roosevelt "tacitly acquiesced" in the merger, thus giving assurances that no effort would be made to prevent it by anti-trust proceedings.

WATER DISPUTE IS SETTLED

Work Will Now Continue on Big Irrigation Project.

Great Falls, Mont., June 14.—The decree in the Sun river water rights adjudication case was signed by District Judge Jere B. Leslie here, ending litigation that has been pending in the courts in Great Falls for seven years and clearing the way for continuation of construction work on the Sun river irrigation project, one of the largest being built by the United States reclamation service.

The decree finally adjudicates all existing water rights in the Sun river valley and fixes the amount of water to which each of about 250 appropriators is entitled.

As a result, the government is enabled to begin the expenditure of $3,278,000 appropriated by the last congress out of the general reclamation fund for the continuation of the work on Sun river. Government engineers are already on the project making arrangements for active operations.

Lawyer Candidate for Senator.

St. Paul, June 14.—Daniel W. Lawler, former mayor of St. Paul, announced his candidacy for the United States senate under the terms of the new Leefe law. If nominated he will oppose Senator Knute Nelson in the general election next year. Mr. Lawler made a fight against Senator Nelson once before, in 1892, when they ran against each other for governor, and Nelson was elected by about 75,000 plurality.

J. Proctor Knott Ill.

Lebanon, Ky., June 14.—Former Governor J. Proctor Knott is critically ill at his home near here. Weakened by a stroke of paralysis a few months ago he is threatened by pneumonia. He is nearly eighty-two years old.

WILL DRIVE OUT
BEET PRODUCERS

Probable Result of Reducing Tariff on Sugar.

Washington, June 14.—A reduction of the sugar bill of the American people was predicted by Edwin F. Atkins, head of the American Sugar Refining company, as a probable result of the reduction of the tariff on raw sugar, in testimony he gave to the house special sugar committee.

Putting raw sugar on the free list, however, he said, would result in driving many sugar beet producers in the United States out of business and seriously crippling Louisiana cane producers. Representative Madison of Kansas tried in vain to get the witness to fix a point to which the duty might safely be reduced.

The tariff discussion occurred in connection with testimony regarding the prices of sugar, about which Mr. Atkins testified practically all day. At the conclusion of the session Chairman Hardwick announced the committee was through with Mr. Atkins for the present and would hear Charles R. Helke, formerly secretary of the American Sugar Refining company.

Mr. Madison led Mr. Atkins to admit that in dollars and cents Cuba profited practically nothing as a result of the "favored nation" treaty with this country in regard to sugar importations. When Cuba had sugar to sell, he said, the price went down so low the differential enjoyed over other countries was wiped out, but when that country had no sugar to sell the differential was available.

SHOT BY POLICE OFFICER

St. Paul Man Fatally Wounded in Evading Arrest.

St. Paul, June 14.—L. P. Teegerstrom was shot by Detective Hammergren while attempting to escape arrest. The injured man was at once taken to the city hospital, where physicians said he would not live.

County Attorney O'Brien visited Teegerstrom at the hospital and obtained from him an ante-mortem statement, which will not be made public until later. The county attorney said an investigation would be made of the shooting.

Detectives Carroll and Hammergren participated in the man hunt which culminated in the shooting and the officers tell conflicting stories. The warrant on which it was expected to arrest Teegerstrom charged him with obtaining money under false pretenses in connection with soliciting orders and receiving partial payments for photographs to be furnished patrons by A. L. Johnson, photographer. Mr. Johnson denied any business relations with Teegerstrom.

Cannon Won't Enter Vaudeville.

Washington, June 14.—Former Speaker Cannon denies with characteristic vehemence a rumor that he is to appear upon the vaudeville stage under a ten weeks' contract calling for $3,000 a week. He says that while the interests of Danville, his home, are dear to his heart he has not contemplated going upon the stage.

SENATOR STONE IS TAFT LEADER

Missourian Likely to Handle Reciprocity Measure.

DEMOCRATS TO PUSH FIGHT.

Situation Will Be Different From What It Was When the Last Tariff Bill Was Under Discussion—Williams of Mississippi Is Expected to Take Part in the Coming Debate.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 14.—[Special.]—It is likely to develop that the Taft leader in the senate is William J. Stone of Missouri. Although Senator Penrose reported the Canadian reciprocity bill and will push it along as the senator in charge, the defense of the measure will devolve upon Democrats.

It has been evident for a long time that Stone has been fitting himself for the position of leading the fight for the bill. He has been urging speedy action upon it and has taken a very active part in favor of the bill during the hearings. He also has had many and extended conferences with President Taft on the subject.

Stone and the president are very good friends. Stone is a "Taftier," as members of the party are designated who made the trip with Taft to the Philippines a few years ago.

Will Be a Contrast.

The situation in the senate during the consideration of the Canadian bill will be in great contrast to that when the last tariff bill was under discussion. At that time Democratic senators were severely criticised for allowing the burden of opposition to the Republican program to be carried by insurgent Republicans. It was said that several Democratic senators lost an opportunity to make reputations for themselves.

Such will not be the case during the next few weeks, for not only Stone, but Williams of Mississippi and many other Democrats, will take a prominent part in the discussions. Senator Bailey, who would be the natural leader in tariff matters on the Democratic side, will be opposing the bill, but he will have only a small following.

A Near Discovery.

A witness before the senate finance committee was moving along in a monotonous sort of manner and remarked that the flying machine was the latest device for handling sized timber.

"Do you mean to say that you handle your timber with a flying machine?" asked Senator Gallinger, with amazement.

The witness explained that it was a spar 120 feet high with cables, which replaced the old donkey engine.

Seeing Washington.

The spring and summer months have brought thousands of sightseeing tourists to Washington. There has seldom been such a rush of visitors to the capitol. When congress is in session the galleries are filled with strangers who for the first time observe the national lawmakers at work. There is every prospect that visitors to Washington will enjoy that privilege for several weeks, if not months.

Bailey's Choice.

"When I leave the senate," said Senator Bailey, "I will become either an editor or a law professor. My inclination is to become an editor, for I believe I can do more good in that line of work."

This remark was injected into the hearings on the Canadian reciprocity bill. The Texas senator no doubt thinks he has a mission and that he would give the world great truths. It would be interesting to note a newspaper war between Bailey's paper and that of a journal published at Lincoln, Neb.

In the same discussion it was developed that Senator Smoot was the owner of one newspaper and was interested in others. He said he did not write for his paper. "If I owned a paper," said Bailey, "I certainly would write for it."

Almost Forgotten.

In some manner the subject of denatured alcohol was injected into a senatorial discussion, and different senators pointed out that the impression seemed to be that the bill was to bring fortunes to thousands of people—yes, millions, especially the farmers—throughout the land, and yet no one seemed to know of a single advantage that had been accomplished by it.

At one time there was about to be as great a contest for the authorship of the law as there is for the credit of originating rural free delivery. Everybody claims to have been the pioneer in that innovation, but now no one seems to care who was responsible for the denatured alcohol law.

Back Numbers.

Sitting side by side on a senate sofa not long since were Tom Power and Fred Dubois. Power was one of the first senators from Montana, and Dubois became a senator from Idaho two months after the state was admitted. Those were new states not so very long ago, and yet that pair on the senate sofa were back numbers. They were associated in one of the greatest filibusters the senate has known, in 1893, when the silver men tried to defeat the repeal of the silver purchase law.

Forty-fifth Annual Minnesota State Encampment.

St. Paul, June 14.—John E. Gilman of Boston, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., will arrive in St. Paul Thursday night to attend the forty-fifth annual state encampment of the G. A. R., which will be held at the old capitol June 15 and 16.

Thursday morning the delegates will be welcomed by Governor Eberhart and Mayor Keller. The rest of the morning program will be devoted to music and recitations.

Nearly 400 announcements have been sent to members of the Second Minnesota notifying them of the reunion Thursday morning at the old capitol.

Friday will be devoted to the election of officers and the installation ceremonies by the organizations holding their annual encampment in conjunction with the G. A. R.

MILLIONS PAID OUT
IN LIFE INSURANCE

Amount in Minnesota in 1910 Approximately $5,000,000.

St. Paul, June 14.—Life insurance organizations of the United States and Canada distributed $563,449,000 in 1910, according to computations by the Insurance Press. The payments in the two countries to beneficiaries for death claims, matured endowments and other benefits under the policies of level premium companies and the certificates of various life insurance organizations—assessment and the like—amounted to $381,449,000. The estimated total of the amounts paid by regular companies in dividends to policyholders, for surrender values, to annuitants and on claims in foreign countries was $182,000,000.

The amounts of claims paid in Minnesota during the year were approximately $5,000,000, it is stated. Several states had much larger amounts. New York leading with $69,500,000. Of the amount distributed in Minnesota, Minneapolis got $1,772,000 and St. Paul $1,259,750. Three other cities in this state got over $100,000. Winona estates getting $272,500, Duluth, $265,750 and St. Cloud $146,000.

SEARCHERS LOCATE TORSO

Farmer Slain, Dismembered, Burned and Then Buried.

Cass Lake, Minn., June 14.—The body of Peter Neste, who disappeared suddenly from his home near Farris the latter part of March, was found about thirty rods from the house, minus head, arms and legs.

Neste's son-in-law, Wicks, James Glendon and another man were at the house moving some personal effects of Mrs. Neste to the depot. Having a few minutes to spare they went to a location where bones were discovered in May. One of the party, a heavy man, when over a certain spot, felt the ground give. Taking a piece of iron he began digging, while Wicks went after a spade. They finally reached the body about two feet underground.

The body was dismembered by some sharp instrument, as cuts were clear and not hacked. The remains were scorched and it is believed that they were buried after attempts were made to burn the entire body on a brush fire.

Right Back at Her.

"Does your husband allow you to have things charged at the stores?" "Oh, I think he would, but—"

"But the stores wouldn't. Is that what you were going to add?" "Oh, no. I was going to say that he gives me plenty of money with which to pay cash. Does yours?"—Buffalo Express.

CONVICT SUES THE WARDEN

Asks $100,000 Damage for Various Alleged Indignities.

Butte, Mont., June 14.—Warden Frank Conley of the state penitentiary, one of the most prominent prison officials in the Northwest, was made defendant in a suit for $100,000 brought by Oram Stephens, a former convict, who is alleged to have been implicated in the last attempt to break out, in which Guard Robinson was killed and Conley severely stabbed.

In his complaint Stephens alleges he was manacled, shackled and put in a cell known as "the hole" after being beaten and kicked and having his collarbone broken; that he was put in solitary confinement for eighty-one days, for fifty-five of which he was fed on water; that for twenty-two months he was confined in a cell with an insane Italian, during which time he was in fear of his life; that he afterwards was in solitary confinement for six months, with a negro, that he was confined 177 days after his term had expired and that Conley afterwards caused his arrest and confinement for seventy-one days in the Deer Lodge county jail.

BREN PRELIMINARY REPORT

Said Minnesota University Shortage Is About $20,000.

Minneapolis, June 14.—The preliminary report, 4,000 words in extent, of Deputy Examiner Frank N. Stacy on the status of the accounts of Joseph D. Bren, deposed treasurer of the university, and probably charging a shortage of about $20,000, including the sum said by Mr. Bren to have been stolen from him June 2, will be made to Governor Eberhart. It is said that this applies to the students' "breakage" fund alone and that the $4,950 found in the vault of the university Saturday night will not be credited to the breakage fund.

County Attorney Robertson announced that the Bren case will be cleared up by the grand jury before the investigation and probe of the entire university is pushed.

Mr. Lindbergh Makes Sensational Address in House.

ASSAILS BOSSES AND BOSSISM

Minnesotan Attacks Policy of Rule by

Caucus and Declares Politicians Are Liars and Should Not Be Trusted by the People—Says When Any President Seeks to Control House by Patronage He Is Guilty of Bribery.

Washington, June 14.—Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota gave interest to an otherwise academic debate on the Underwood wool revision bill in the house by making a vigorous assault on bosses and bossism and on the present Democratic policy of absolute rule by caucus and he also made the declaration, in no uncertain language, that politicians are liars and should not be trusted by the people.

"It seems clear to me," said Mr. Lindbergh, "that there is no hope of relief here in congress until the people decide what they want and then elect their representatives to execute their plans. It won't do to take politicians for their guides, for politicians are liars."

"This house has ceased to be the forum of the people," Mr. Lindbergh declared. "It is plain that in that capacity it has gone out of business. A few more than half of the representatives have renounced their rights, lent themselves to a caucus system and are willing that the caucus action should take the responsibility of the individual membership of the individual mind."

Caucus Action Settles It.

"No member has any influence on the floor of the house after the caucus has once made its decision. No act or speech in the house now changes the result of caucus action. The house has capitulated to an unofficial body at the present time known as the Democratic caucus."

"It is not the first time in history that the majority membership of this house has committed treason, nor is the Democratic caucus the only caucus to have committed the offense. I am not partisan in this consideration. 'I am talking against treason and I unflinchingly and unhesitatingly say that any member who surrenders his action to control of a caucus violates his oath, is a traitor to his constituency and commits treason against his country.'

"It is in opposition to caucus and executive control in connection with legislation that every citizen should rise in arms. This system is in its essentiality a system of the bosses and special interests. It is the most effective way by which they can secure legislation favorable to themselves and has been encouraged by them at all times. The country has been discreetly taught to believe that the caucus is the place to settle political and legislative matters and presidents have been encouraged to bribe with the use of patronage as the spoils."

Declares System Vicious.

Again denouncing caucus rule as "one of the most vicious systems ever practiced" Mr. Lindbergh added that "you Democrats who are unbalancing and following it are sowing the seeds of sins to be committed in the near future under the same practice."

"The people have permitted and even approved caucus control in the past, but that was done in ignorance of its baleful ulterior results," continued Mr. Lindbergh. "The public now knows what it means; it knows that it is the machine for defeating the people's rights and is a prostitution of representative government."

"The house is the only elective body in Washington and when any president undertakes to control it by systems of personal favors in the shape of patronage to those who will vote for so called administrative measures, irrespective of their honest opinion of their merits or demerits, he is guilty of nothing short of a conspiracy to insult the people's intelligence and show an utter disregard for the form of our government."

HEARINGS ON FREE LIST BILL

Finance Committee Will Keep Measure in Inference.

Washington, June 14.—Indicating by inference that there is little prospect of getting the farmers' free list bill out of the committee on finance, Senator Penrose, chairman of that committee, announced in the senate that the committee would grant hearings on that measure.

Senator Bailey said that ultimately he would move to discharge the committee from further consideration of the free list bill.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING

A Good Attendance is Present at the Tuesday Night Meeting—Routine and Other Business

A regular meeting of the Brainerd Commercial Club was held on Tuesday evening at the rooms of the club in the Iron Exchange. The action of the public affairs committee in regard to making an effort to secure the next convention of the Trades & Labor Assembly of the state and pledging $250 to help defray the expenses was ratified as was also the action taken by the committee regarding the pledge to the City Band.

A communication was read from W. H. Gemmell regarding a meeting to be held in the near future at which Dr. Vincent, president of the State University, has agreed to be present and give the citizens of Brainerd and the club members an address. The matter was referred to the proper committee.

The secretary reported three applications for membership in his hands and the number already on the membership roll is 108.

Dr. Camp brought up the matter of having a suitable map made that would indicate the principal lakes, roads and the mining region of the county for the benefit of visitors who might be seeking information and the matter was referred to a committee for investigation as to cost and feasibility.

The railway committee was given further time in which to report on the street railway matter.

The matter of continuous electric light 24 hours a day and seven days a week was discussed and a committee was instructed to wait on the water and light board and report at the next meeting.

Other business of minor importance was transacted and the meeting adjourned.

WESTERN UNION ON GROUND FLOOR

The Offices to be Removed From the Bane Block to 209 South Sixth Street

BETTER ABLE TO SERVE PUBLIC

The New Location Will be Very Handy to Trains, Hotels and the Post Office

Changes are now being made to the offices at 209 South Sixth street formerly occupied by the Henry I. Cohen insurance agency and when completed the rooms of the north half will be occupied by the Western Union telegraph company.

An electric sign over the sidewalk will serve to attract the attention of a stranger at night and as it will be seen over two blocks away it will readily be noticed from the trains arriving in the city. It is an ideal place for an office as it is very convenient to the post office, the city hall, hotels and court house and the new location certainly assures an increase in business.

David R. Craig, the manager, has been at the Bane block eight years and previous to that was stationed seven years at the old Arlington hotel. He has been handling telegraph keys for over 28 years and before coming to Brainerd was employed in Iowa and Pennsylvania.

The company has other innovations to make which will be announced as soon as they are ready to install. Supt. D. A. Bradley, of Minneapolis, was in the city recently and gave much time and attention to the Brainerd office. Another source of satisfaction is the great increase in the number of night letters filed and handled by the local office.

LABOR COMM'R. HOUK IN CITY

Commissioner of Labor, Industries and Commerce on an Inspection Trip

VISITED N. P. SHOPS TODAY

Mr. Houk Outlined Some of the Work His Department is Doing and Results Attained

W. F. Houk, of St. Paul, the state commissioner of labor, industries and commerce, was a visitor in Brainerd today and in company with Inspector George W. Pippy, of his department, he visited the Northern Pacific railway shops and formed the acquaintance of many of its employees. "There is one thing I was gratified to see," said Mr. Houk, "and that was the number of men over 50 in the employ of the company. It shows that the road appreciates good service and keeps men on its pay-rolls for 25 years or more."

Mr. Houk, before being commissioner of labor, was a foreman of the Minneapolis Tribune for 24 years and is a well known printer. He referred to the work done by his predecessor, Mr. McEwen, of Duluth, and mentioned the census which had been taken of wage earners and industries, the inquiry into the cost of living, and the compilation of industrial accidents, there being 20,000 accidents reported the last term.

"The main work of the department of labor this term will be the formulating of plans for the prevention of accidents. The numerous cases reported will be digested by statisticians and something will be done to reduce the list of accidents. The reports issued by the labor bureau of Minnesota have received much favorable comment by conventions, newspapers, magazines, etc., and are declared to be the best compiled reports of the kind in the world."

"The bureau has just completed a safety bulletin mentioning safety appliances, safety regulations and how to prevent accidents in different lines of industry."

Mr. Houk was much impressed by the magnitude of the Northern Pacific railway shops and considered them the greatest of their kind in the United States. He visited the Dispatch office and inspected its plant. Before returning to Minneapolis, Mr. Houk will visit at Mille Lacs lake.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

FRONT DOOR NIGHT BELLS.

Doctors Are Not the Only Ones Who Have Use For Them.

At 1 o'clock in the morning a man who was looking for a doctor found a door plate on which he distinguished the words, "Night bell," and rang the bell. When the door opened and a figure appeared in the semidarkness of the hall he said:

"Hurry up, please. There is a sick woman at No. 132."

The man inside said "All right," and in a few seconds both men were racing down the street to No. 132. In the top floor front room lay a very sick woman. The newcomer pulled a small table to the bedside and took from his pocket a sheet of paper and a fountain pen.

"What on earth are you doing with that?" said the man who had summoned him. "You're a nice doctor, you are."

"Doctor?" echoed the man. "I'm not a doctor; I'm a lawyer. Didn't you read the sign, 'Lawyer's night bell'?"

"But what does a lawyer need of a night bell?" the other man asked.

"To enable the people who want to make wills in the dead of night to find him readily," was the reply.

"Once in a while I'm called up to straighten out more serious entanglements, but most of the legal papers I write after 10 p. m. are wills. A lot of people who take sick suddenly recollect that they have never made a will and they want to repair the omission while there is time. When you said there was a sick woman here I naturally thought of wills, not medicine. There is a doctor in the corner house."

HOW DID GENERAL MORGAN ESCAPE?

Pretty War Story Appears to Have Been a Myth.

NO SECRET TUNNEL FOUND

The Confederate Raider Did Not Gain His Liberty by Method Generally Supposed—His Daring Exploits Along the Ohio River.

Further investigation in the Ohio state penitentiary at Columbus has failed to reveal any secret tunnel by which General John H. Morgan and his five Confederate followers escaped from prison, and the manner of their escape probably will never be known, as General Morgan, who led the escape, has been dead almost fifty years.

John H. Morgan of Kentucky was the leader of a band of guerrilla raiders who kept the Federal farmers and townspeople living along the Ohio river in a constant state of terror in the early years of the civil war. Morgan's raids started in Kentucky, but the Ohio river was no protection to those living on the north side of it, for the Confederate leader dodged from one side of it to the other with marvelous agility. When there was no bridge convenient, and often there was not, a river steamer would be captured to carry the guerrilla troops.

His First Exploit.

General Morgan's first exploit was the invasion of Kentucky from eastern Tennessee in July, 1861. He had a force of 1,200 men, and he hoped to stir the young men of the race horse state up to joining the Confederacy. Many of them did, but Morgan's plan to sweep Kentucky into the ranks of the seceded states was unsuccessful. Morgan rode north across Kentucky at the head of his band of raiders, living on the country and forcing contributions for the support of his army from friend and foe alike. The friends were glad to turn over to the Confederate "liberator" whatever they had of horses and provisions, and his foes were afraid not to. The guerrilla leader planned to plunder Cincinnati, and the inhabitants of that pork packing town were in a state of great alarm until the news came that a Federal force under Green Clay Smith, a Kentuckian, had forced Morgan's band to turn back and retreat south.

In the summer of 1863 Morgan planned an organized invasion of the states north of the Ohio for the purpose of stirring up a counter revolution there. In the northwest the Knights of the Golden Circle, an organization of the peace party, which objected strongly to the payment of war taxes, was ready to aid him. Morgan crossed the Ohio late in June. A strong Federal force was victorious in a fight July 3, and the Morgan band retreated south again.

Plundered as They Went.

His ranks were swelled by recruits from Kentucky, and with an army of 4,000 men he again crossed to the north side of the Ohio a few days later. Through Indiana the rebel army marched, plundering as it went. The farmers were not the only ones who were forced to contribute to the maintenance of the guerrilla troops. Factory owners were compelled to pay $1,000 apiece to receive a guarantee that their places of business were not destroyed.

Indiana was aroused and with the news of the victories of Gettysburg and Vicksburg was more than ever determined to drive Morgan and his army south of the Ohio. Governor Morton issued a general call to the citizens of the state, and within forty-eight hours 65,000 of them turned out "to repel invaders."

His Capture and Escape.

Morgan was surrounded at Buffington Ford when he tried to escape into Virginia, and there 800 of his men surrendered. The rest escaped with their leader. At Belleville about 300 escaped by swimming their horses across the Ohio. Morgan himself fled inland, fighting militia, plundering and burning bridges in order to delay his pursuers. New pursuers sprang up in front of him. All Indiana was eager to have a share in the capture of "Morgan the raider." Morgan struggled on until July 20, when he was forced to surrender. With a half dozen of his men he was confined in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus. There he stayed until Nov. 17, when the officials of the prison suddenly discovered that "the raider" and his officers were gone. Various romantic stories of the escape were told. According to almost all of them, the Confederate officers had escaped by tunneling. A favorite tale was that the spoons which they were given to eat with were the instruments of their escape. For four months, the story went, the little band of men spent all their waking time, which extended far into the night, scraping out a way to freedom.

"Dinner of Deadly Enemies."

Lady Randolph Churchill once gave at her house in Connaught place what she called a dinner of deadly enemies. It was thought, says Mr. G. W. Small, in his "Anglo-American Memories," a hazardous experiment. "It proved a complete success. They were all well bred people. They all recognized their obligations to their hostess as paramount for the time being. In some cases ancient animosities were softened. In all they were suspended."

Japan's Imports.

Japan bought $28,808,000 worth of American goods in the nine months ended March, 1911, or $12,800,000 worth more than in the preceding similar period. Japan is increasing imports right along now that the "financial squeeze" there has eased up.

Shadow Dancer Performs Behind a Screen—Only Outline Shows.

A London theatrical manager has achieved more than a day's fame by the presentation of a series of dances, old in their form, but entirely new in their method of production. The entertainment is called "shadow dancing" and consists of a very graceful young woman, draped only in a diaphanous fabric, performing a dance of classic movements behind a white curtain, a strong light being thrown on

Shadow dances originated back in the stone age when the first loving father doubled up his fists and showed his joyous offspring the picture of the rabbit formed by the shadow his hands cast when held between the light of his cave and the pine torch that gave him light. Persons with nimble fingers have introduced the same form of amusement in vaudeville, performing behind small screens. But the London instance is the first time that the entire figure has been used in a production, and it is stated that the results obtained were exceedingly pleasing.

Infamous Cruelty to the Ladies.

This from the "Personal" column of the London Telegraph:

"Will the fairer of the two ladies who entered the Apsley gate of Hyde park in a landaulet on Sunday at 12:15, who smiled at gentlemen riding lay cob, kindly make appointment tomorrow through these columns? He earnestly longs to again meet his ideal centaur."

The connection between a centaur and two ladies in a motorcar is not obvious, but we pass over that to protest at the infamous cruelty of a creature who deliberately sets two ladies the task of deciding between themselves which of them is the fairer.—Reiman.

Genesis of Life Insurance.

Life insurance originated in 1706 in London. In that year there was formed the first life insurance company. It was called the Amicable Society For a Perpetual Assurance Office. It was a mutual benefit concern. Each member, without reference to age, paid a fixed admission fee and a fixed annual charge per share on from one to three shares, and at the end of the year a portion of the fund accumulated was divided among the heirs of those who had died in accordance with the number of shares each dead person had held. Out of this company, with its crude and imperfect methods, life insurance as it exists today has grown.
